International Journal Semiarid

The International Journal Semiarid registers technical-scientific products that approach the Semiarid region, through services and experiences carried out in the semiarid environment or activities that contribute to that environment. The information that the journal receives is attributed to Teaching, Research and Extension activities, supported with scientific rigor and serving as a source of research. We also highlight a section specific to the technical products developed in the outline of this environment.
